About This Report

JERA Group Integrated Report 2023 serves as a structured overview of group initiatives and is grounded in our corporate value creation story, driving us closer to achieving our mission and vision. It is designed as a communication tool for a diverse range of stakeholders—investors, local residents, students, and more—to deepen their understanding of our young company, which was only established in 2015. We hope this report will assist in enhancing readers' understanding of the situation amidst the significant shifts in the energy landscape both in Japan and around the world.

Moving forward, we will continue to refine our approach, striving for greater clarity and drawing on feedback from all of our stakeholders.
